New Monte Carlo Is Planned by Cuba to Attract Americans

$4,000,000 Investment May Be Made Under Management of Men From U. S. to Attract Thirsty Ones

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 17.—Many visitors from the United States are experiencing Havana's charms for the first time. The Sevilla and McAlpin hotels, representing the American idea, and the Inglaterra and Telegrafo, with their quaint semi-Spanish atmosphere, are comfortably filled with guests.

Of interest to the winter colony here is a report that an exclusive resort, fashioned after Monte Carlo, is contemplated at San Diego Hot Springs, near Santiago. The project will consist of two enormous hotels, a casino, and game preserve for hunting parties. The company holds a ninety-nine-year concession from the Cuban government for this privilege, which will represent an investment of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. Although the stockholders are high Cuban officials, the management of the venture will be under American control. Spain, Portugal, France and Scotland are being drawn upon for choice beverages to ally the thirst of patrons sojourning at Cuba's Monte Carlo.

Harold L. Williams, chargé d'affaires of the American Legation, tendered a banquet to the new United States Minister to Cuba, Boaz Long, on Monday evening. Covers were laid for fifteen guests at the Restaurant Paris. Among those present were Hernando Bohn, president of the Cuban Telephone Company; Colonel Charles Hernandez, Postmaster General; George A. Morson, commander Carlton Kear, Dr. Lucius Q. C. Lamar, José Maninon, President of the Blanco Español; Regino Truffin, the foreign-born should be shown in the present crusade against destructive radicalism. So much stress has been placed on the part of those of foreign birth are playing in such activities that the impression has gone out that all foreign-born persons are a menace to American institutions, or at least the greater part of them are, whereas the fact is that the great majority of them are loyal and are doing everything they can to understand America and aid in promoting its welfare.

"Of the foreign language newspapers only 5 per cent have at any time advocated the overthrow of the government by force and the substitution of Communism for the present economic order. Fifteen per cent are socialistic, while 80 per cent are as conservative as the great majority of American publications.

"There have been sent broadcast grotesquely exaggerated statements about these newspapers, such as the recent announcement published in New York and elsewhere that 416 foreign language newspapers are radical.

For Better Understanding

"The Inter-Racial Council will direct its efforts toward making the foreign-born better understood and toward translating America to them in terms which they will understand. It will advocate such changes in industrial conditions as will lift the foreign-born from the status of mere cogs in a machine to the status of human beings."

Describing its plan, the Inter-Racial Council says that it will operate partly through an open, frank analysis of conditions affecting foreign-born workers in industrial plants and through racial conference groups which have been organized among thirty of the races in the United States. It will endeavor to reach the foreign-born in the places where they live and the shops where they work.

"The program," the announcement says in conclusion, "is intended to go to the very root of the present unrest rather than its superficial aspects. It is concerned only with constructive measures, to the end that American institutions may be saved from factious again and again the conditions that grow out of racial prejudices, repression and misunderstanding."
